Admiral Stansfield Turner
Director, Central Intelligence Agency
Washington, D.C. 20505

Dear Admiral Turner:

I wish to extend my appreciation to you for the fine support provided to my Office by members of your staff. As you know, the Energy Reorganization Act of 1974, which abolished the Atomic Energy Commission and established the Nuclear Regulatory Commission (NRC), charged the Office of Nuclear Material Safety and Safeguards (NMSS) with the responsibility for provision and maintenance of safeguards against threats, theft, and sabotage relating to licensed nuclear facilities and materials. An important function of this Office is to maintain an awareness of current threats to the nuclear industry through analysis and interagency coordination.

In accomplishing the above function, we have met with personnel from the staff of the Deputy Director for Operations to acquire information, receive briefings, and discuss matters pertinent to the threat. In every case, the response was prompt, courteous, and helpful. We recognize the additional work load imposed by our requirements and appreciate the professionalism and cooperative spirit in which our requests were received.

STAT
In particular, I would like to mention the support provided by Messrs. [redacted] [redacted] of your organization in the exchange of information concerning threat data management and analysis requirements. The insights provided by these discussions will be invaluable to us in the development of an automated system to support our threat assessment activities.

It is encouraging to note the development of meaningful working relationships between our two organizations. I am certain you feel as I do that these working relationships and associated information exchange evidence and support the shared concerns of our respective organizations. I look forward to continuing and worthwhile exchanges between NRC and the Central Intelligence Agency.

Sincerely,

Clifford V. Smith, Jr.
Clifford V. Smith, Jr., Director
Office of Nuclear Material Safety and Safeguards
